

President's Blurb

A few years ago while I was driving downtown, I passed a small auto mechanic's shop. A shop that I'll never forget - not for the autos waiting for their appointments with the doctor, not for the grimey walls nor the oily, finger printed tools lying in wait - not for anything other than one sign, scrawled out on cardboard:

Be Aware Of Dog.

(Guess they didn't want you to miss or trip over Fido while he slept in one of the bays?)

That sign is the catalyst for my 1st message to LAA members, as its 2020 president. While the LAA has a strong board, strong officers and loyal volunteers that all work together to keep our organization running, we are still sleeping as an art association and gallery if people aren't aware of us. You, as a member can help. Enter the LAA competitions, exhibits and workshops and promote them through word of mouth. Help us by posting our events on your social media, like us on facebook, and/or email our flyers to your friends.

Be aware of what's happening with your organization by reading this newsletter, coming to meetings and attending receptions. Invite friends, relatives and other non member artists to visit the gallery, take part in our events and to join the LAA. Make us known, make all of Lafayette be aware that we are here.

The last word: I've stepped outside of my comfort zone in becoming the new president of the LAA but I know I have good people I can rely on. If you feel uncomfortable in volunteering for gallery sitting or being on a committee but would still like to, take that step. We need you and we'd like to get to know you better.

Blessed Little Brushes Art Students of Laura LaHaye toured the new exhibit and met the artist, Susan Chiquelin. The students were all ears and eyes as Susan explained how she did her paintings and pottery!

Laura Teague's Keepsake Charm Necklace, Bracelet and Earrings mini workshop had some pretty amazing results! Maggie Chisson, Jan Castille, Bell Norton, Angie Brice, Simone Palmer, Susan Chiquelin and Michelle Hudelot all agree!

Loved the class, please come back! Jan

Thanks again! Was a wonderful class-Proud of my "knot so easy" earrings too! Simone

Ah, thank you for the kind words. I would love to come again. I had a really good time! Great group of women. Laura Teague

Per Margo Baker:
"The Elf Art Project at Lafayette Art Association & Gallery in December was truly one of the best children's workshops! Dusty Reed, Laura LaHaye and I had a blast with your kiddos! Look at one of their adorable projects! A Christmas tree painted on metal with vintage buttons on magnets as decorations!"
